The inspiration

A map of Europe showing the location of Gran Canaria, Spain, and Berlin, Germany. A dashed red line connects the two locations. Gran Canaria is marked with a white circle containing a red location pin. Berlin is marked with a red circle. The map also shows the outlines of countries and major rivers.

Nice to see the Software Crafting community acknowledging the importance of inclusiveness in language moving away from “man” 😊😍

I think of myself better in the future table than in the past	It's also useful because you can compare yourself to others	Now I have more control over my own money and I'm saving more now.	USER PERSPECTIVE THREE: A GOOD TIME	Find a good time to go into the market	Finals week easy-long-term implementation	ANYTHING TIME	Padlock good job! Good habits	I think you presented well! Thank you!
Read my first blog post about the new semester	Next chapter of beautiful Code (11/11)	What's different about this semester?	What's different about this semester?	What's different about this semester?	What's different about this semester?	Two months ago were still had the summer	Code Time	I ENJOYED THIS DOJO
Feedback Rock is an interesting tool for notes	I'd like to start doing more exercises	I'd like to start writing about this EDLOG	Want try to do more work	Should probably do more work	I would like to start: - reading code completely	Supposed me to: How code applies in real projects a lot more realistic	I MADE THE CODE WORK BUT HAD PROBLEMS WITH TESTING	Very excited about December 10th
what's a good end we don't know depends...	It could be maybe just what we still offer as a lot of value	Solution will come depending on what we want	Learning new skills is my only thing	I'm learning how to change how sites are presented by you visitors	The last about two months, now back. An awesome day to play a game. Comments is welcome.	I'd like to start using GitHub more often but it's not possible right now	We're going to see if the software lets us do the same things	It's hard to break away from what we have done
So much information available online	I'm not sure by what I want	For And ABOUT THIS DOJO	Software Metrics Solved Me	Learn Value Stuff about IT stuffs	Potential conflicts of blog SHADED	The last 3 Starting with very basics	I've learned... - API - NoSQL - NoSQL in DBP book	It's like to start learning... - Learning the language as well - Learning the language as well
